

Station 1 . Phase 1 . Signature Style . Fire Mars . Avatar

Wants a cool avatar. We all need to take agency in the image we project out into the world, because if we don't, one will be assigned to us. And that never works out well. The image we project needs to be authentic because it is directly linked to the partners we are able to attract. What's your superhero look like?

Station 2 . Phase 2 . Receive . Earth Venus . Possessions

Wants the right tools for the job. You will need specific, precise tools to craft your magnum opus and to handle all the little jobs that come up along the way. Tools are like super weapons, they give us the gift of time—our most precious personal asset. What's in your tool belt, Batman?

Station 3 . Phase 3 . Learn . Air Mercury . Navigation

Wants to be out and about. Navigation requires communication and transportation. We need to learn, think, talk, sign, read, write, walk, run, skip, ride, drive, add, subtract, make change—whatever it takes to get from point A to point B, to accomplish the tasks of the day, in your ideal neighborhood. You know, the one that is uniquely equipped to support your dreams. Now you've got your map and your directions, what kind of vehicle are you going to use to get there, and who are you going to need to talk to along the way? What's their language? What's your approach to roadblocks and detours? What neighborhood do you need? Are you driving a batmobile, riding a dragon, or taking the train?

Station 4 . Phase 1 . Lucidity . Luna . Home

Wants housing, literally. We all need a safe, private space where we can eat and sleep without worry. You know, those things required to keep your body alive. Having this space is directly linked to our mental health, our clarity, and our capacity to function as contributing members of society. Should your home be modest, spartan, lavish, iconic, pioneering, a cottage, a ranch style (ok, ranch's are ugly, it's not a ranch), a high-rise, or an earth contact? It's all in the chart, right down to the view you need out your window.

Station 5 . Phase 2 . Create . Sol . Play

Wants to play. We need to play and create, and play and create, and play and create, until we stumble onto our great work—our magnum opus. And then we should play some more, because all work and no play makes Jill a dull girl. Play brings us closer to God.

Station 6 . Phase 3 . Maintenance . Earth Mercury . Work

Wants everything to work. We need everything in our world to work--our tools, our stuff, our body, and our brain. If it's broke, it is here that we fix it. We will need schedules and routines that honor the six sacred axes and support us in the twelve workstations. Routines and practices live here.

Station 7 . Phase 1 . Relating Style . Air Venus . Symbiosis

Wants symbiotic partnerships. The partners we attract and whether or not we will be able to keep them, is determined by our relating style. And just as our personal image needs to project authenticity, our partnerships need to do the same. Hate to break it to you, but this has nothing to do with marriage. Marriage partnerships can work out well for some and not for others. Marriage is always optional and never a requirement. In regards to marriage, Venus can only oversee marriages that are based on cool detachment that serve a specific, contractual purpose for a determined period of time. She needs Juno's help for a lifetime commitment based on feelings of affection and love.

Station 8 . Phase 2 . Share . Water Mars . Well of Resources

Wants a sustainable system for sharing all of planet Earth's resources. Accessibility for all, no man left behind says 8. Yep, that's the scary part.

Station 9 . Phase 3 . Mentorship . Fire Jupiter . Mastery

This is the house of research and development. Here we search for and study the world's master, to refine our craft to it's most polished version of itself. We need to master our craft and become a mentor to others if our creations are to survive for posterity. If we leave out the mentorship part, we are half-assing the 9th and doing a disservice to ourselves and the younger generations.

Station 10 . Phase 1 . Contribute . Earth Saturn . Enterprise

Wants a safe public space, to bring our magnum opus to market and to manage the enterprise of our contribution.

Station 11 . Phase 2 . Camaraderie . Air Saturn . Collaboration

Wants to collaborate. Here we emulate divinity, together. This is where we can bring our expertise to the groups that are tackling the world's or our neighborhood's, biggest problems, producing solutions that are more brilliant than anything we could have ever produced on our own. Camaraderie is our doorway into 11.

Station 12 . Phase 3 . Acceptance . Water Jupiter . Psychic Development

Wants us to stop, contemplate, meditate, and use our psychic senses, to synthesize all of the other houses into a cohesive working whole. The twelfth house wants a perfect system that works at every level, creating heaven on Earth, pure bliss, nirvana, and enlightenment. This is a lot easier if our psychic superpowers are activated. This humanity is capable of, if we are willing to do the spiritual work and self-actualize on a collective scale. We don't all have to participate, but we do have to reach the tipping point.